Let's Make You Stronger!

The Orthopaedic Foundation gave me the opportunity to participate in Cadaver Labs at their BioSkills Lab in NYC. Thanks to this amazing opportunity, to be part of cadaver labs I was exposed to neurologists and orthopaedic surgeons, which sparked my interest and led me to embark on a journey into physical therapy. I am currently a first-year DPT student at Tufts School of Medicine. My focus is on clinical electrophysiology to improve sports performance and rehabilitation. I am also an independent coach for USA Weightlifting and Training!
